The LiquiCell Seating Experience

The Extended Comfort Seat Pad uses ultra-thin, liquid-filled membranes specifically designed and scientifically proven to provide improved long-term seating comfort by reducing and even eliminating fatigue, numbness, fidgeting and tail burn.

Extended Comfort Seat Pad: A test over time.

The Extended Comfort Seat Pad provides unsurpassed seating comfort - get ready to:

- alleviate the pain, that you may experience from your lower back to your ankles, when seated for long periods of time
- enjoy your time sitting and enjoy whatever you are doing, wherever you are and for however long
- focus on the task at hand and be more efficient rather than focusing on the discomfort of sitting for longer periods

What others are saying...

"As a part of my job I spend countless hours in my vehicle. My first experience with the Extended Comfort Seat Pad was a road trip of 1200 miles in 5 days and the relief and comfort from the pad was remarkable. Since then I have traveled close to 10,000 miles and can honestly say that I would not leave home without it. I now use the pad on my office chair and find the same positive effect."

— Murray, VP Sales medical device company

"I have used my Extended Comfort Seat Pad on every trip since Las Vegas, and I won't leave home without it".

— Rick, Director of Marketing for automotive aftermarket supplier

"I have to tell you, the Extended Comfort Seat Pad worked great on the long flights to and from Europe. I gave one of the pads to George... He said the same thing. I have also been using it on my task chair since I received it and I feel more comfortable."

— Beth Ann, VP Product Development furniture manufacturer
